The coal shaft has changed hands; having been under an assignee for two years, it was sold Thursday week to Watkins & Lowe of Danville. The gentlemen are practical miners, and propose to fit the shaft for business. They have purchased a new steam pump and other fixtures that will materially improve the working of the shaft and expect to put it in first class order.
The band concert on Saturday night last was well attended and the band never did better. The boys clear somewhere about $40 which goes to the fund for new uniforms.

CHRONIC DISEASES.

Wonderful Results.
I wish to make this statement for the benefit of the public. In regard to my little daughter, A. E. Keck, aged 11 years, the disease being settled in a seated case of chronic consumption. Suffering intensely in the last four years, having often to go to bed with the slightest cold, and at times, many times, coughing up blood. I had tried every remedy, but every attack would be her last. Her left lung was so weak, with much pain and badly ruptured, could not breathe through her left lung. She also had curvature of the spine, which was badly disfiguring. Her heart was in a diseased condition, with a quick pulse, very weak, and no appetite. For a child of her years, she was very slow developing. She had a bad cough for a number of years, raising heavy green matter, she had a cold, clammy sweat.
I had treated the child with a number of physicians with no benefit or no hope of a cure. On Sept. 7, 1891, I brought my child, a hopeless case, given up by all other doctors, to Mrs. Dr. Keck, and placed her under her care, and the result has been a complete restoration in all respects, the child now being entirely well, having given her no medicine since last August. During this severe winter and with so much sickness and dyspepsia in the city, my child has remained healthy and well, not having one attack of asthma, and even with influenza in my house, which my youngest daughter had and was cured by Mrs. Dr. Keck. I consider the cure wonderful and have cause to believe my child entirely well and the cure permanent.
The above bad symptoms have all gone away, and my daughter has greatly developed and gained in strength. She weighed only 35 pounds when I brought her to Mrs. Dr. Keck; she to-day weighs 90 pounds. I would be pleased to have any person address or call on me at my residence, No. 119 West 4th street.

Home Endorsement.—Female Trouble.
OTTAWA, La Salle Co., Ill., May 5, 95.
Mrs. Dr. Keck, Dear Friend:—I feel it my duty to the suffering public to make known what your valuable medicines and advice have done for me. I have not been so well for five years as at present. It is now nine months since I took your medicines, and I feel well and well. I was afflicted with catarrh of the head, and also female troubles of the worst kind, could not rest well at night; severe pain in side and back, was very intense, and I stated all over. I conscientiously recommend your treatment to all suffering from any of the above troubles. I would be pleased to have any person address or call on me at my residence, No. 119 West 4th street.
MRS. A. E. BRUNN.

OTTAWA, Ill., Oct. 25, 1895.
To THE PUBLIC:—I wish to state that in the summer of 1892 I was treated by Mrs. Dr. Keck for the worst of female troubles. Since giving you my statement in May I feel still stronger to gain in health and strength, and you may well know how thankful I feel to you for the great blessing you have bestowed upon me—restoring my health and strength. All these troubles, which were so severe, have been cured by Mrs. Dr. Keck. I consider the cure wonderful and have cause to believe my child entirely well and the cure permanent.
I hope any of my friends who are in poor health may take my advice and do as I have done. If any one wishes to know more of my case they may call on me.
Respectfully,
MRS. JOHN EVANS.
